Software Development Projects   06/2021 - PRESENT

Ravenous- Yelp-like clone

- Created with React library to handle JSX components.
- Initializes API fetch calls to Yelp API, allowing data to render on the browser.
- Search bars handle parameters to sort restaurant data by term and location.
- Users may choose to search by Best Match, Highest Rated, or Most Reviewed.

Portfolio - Personal portfolio application

- Engineered website hub with React to program clean, scalable, and reusable components.
- Involved React imports to establish fluid animations and redirects with react-router.
- Fashioned with SCSS to condense and enhance code readability, while showcasing a unique frontend.
- Media queries are applied to solidify responsiveness across all platforms.

Wayfarer - A travel blog website that requires user login to add and delete their travel locations and posts.

- Collaborated with a 5 man team to design a scalable full-stack application.
- React frontend and an Express backend to provide a complete user experience.
- Initializes API fetch calls to MongoDB, allowing user data to render on the browser.
- Assembled restful routes with Express and Node.js for the backend to handle all create, read, update, delete (CRUD) operations.
- Styled home page carousel, index, and show routes with CSS, Flexbox, and Grid presenting a uniform feel.

Label - A musical artist platform inspired by Spotify.

- Engineered front-end to prioritize the power of SASS and SCSS.
- Coded EJS and Javascript to incorporate interactive web components: buttons, links, video sliders, and pop-up screens.
- Constructed 7 restful routes with Express to handle CRUD through MongoDB.
- Adapted Mongoose to define schemas for MongoDB collections.
